

A Division of
First Citizens Bank

Jeff Lytle

President

CIT Rail

Jeff Lytle is currently in his sixth year as President of CIT Rail, a division of First Citizens Bank. Previously, he served in a variety of commercial leadership roles of increasing responsibility since joining CIT in 2005.

Prior to joining CIT Rail, Mr. Lytle spent nearly 10 years with GE Capital Railcar Services where he held several management roles culminating as Senior Vice President over the petrochemical business segment.

Recently, he led the integration of CIT Rail into First Citizens Bank, a Top 20 U.S. bank with more than $200 billion in assets.

Mr. Lytle is active in rail industry events and organizations and currently serves as Vice Chairman of the Railway Supply Institute in addition to serving as Chairman of the Membership Committee.

Mr. Lytle began his career at Ashland Chemical in sales roles within the General Polymers Division. He earned a bachelor's degree from Indiana University and hold an MBA from Arizona State University.
