

Justin Weber, COO

Venture Logistics

As COO, Justin Weber is responsible for the strategic direction of Venture Logistics, where he oversees the company's revenue generating business units. Prior to his role as COO, he served as executive vice president of Finance and Strategy at Venture with an additional ten years of experience at Cummins Inc., where he worked in corporate strategy, corporate development, and business development. Weber also has extensive experience in aerospace and defense, having worked in missile defense systems and network security at Lockheed Martin and ITT Industries after serving in the U.S. Army.