

Craig Callahan is the Executive Vice President and Chief Commercial Officer at Werner Enterprises. Callahan has more than 26 years of experience with Werner, currently overseeing the Company's Sales and Corporate Communications departments, among others across the enterprise. In his role with the Company, Callahan is responsible for enterprise-wide sales and business development efforts across Werner's entire suite of transportation and logistics service offerings. In November 2020, Werner introduced its ESG program, focusing on environmental, social, and governance initiatives. As part of this strategy, Callahan leads the environmental efforts.

In addition to his corporate responsibilities, Callahan serves on the Board of Directors for College World Series of Omaha, Inc., a nonprofit organization formed in 1967 to organize and enlist community support for the success and growth of each year's event. He is also part of the Executive Leadership Team for the American Heart Association in Omaha.

Callahan graduated from Creighton University in 1995 with a degree in finance and business management, joining the Werner team upon graduation.
