

KEN HOEXTER

Ken Hoexter, Managing Director | Co-Head Industrials Research

Ken Hoexter is a managing director in US Equity Research covering Airfreight & Surface Transportation and Shipping (marine transportation). He is co-head of the Industrial & Basic Materials sectors. Regular Research reports include: weekly Transport Tracker and proprietary bi-weekly Truck Shipper Survey. In the Institutional Investor All-America Research Poll, he ranked in two categories in 2020: Airfreight & Surface Transportation (#2) and Marine Transportation. He has been ranked 23 times: 15x in Transportation, 5x in Shipping (marine transportation), and 3x in CLECs/Telecom. Hoexter has previously been ranked as the #1 stock picker by Financial Times/Starmine in both the Airfreight & Logistics and Railroad sectors. In the Wall Street Journal's Best on the Street 2000 Analyst Survey, Hoexter was honored as a Home Run Hitter, one of seven analysts on Wall Street who were selected as best on the Street in stock picking. Previously, he was at Goldman Sachs and Lehman Brothers. Hoexter has a BS in Finance and Marketing, with a minor in Government from Lehigh University. He is based in New York.